

Coronavirus – Social Distancing

Boris Johnson has told everybody they should not get too close to people. This is called Social Distancing

You must stay at least 2 meters away from someone when you are talking to them.

Do not use public transport, like buses or trains.

Do not visit family or friends. Keep in touch using your phone or social media.

Boris has said you must stay in unless you need food shopping or medicine.

You can go out to exercise, like going for a walk 1 a day. You must not meet with friends or family.
